Why do people
choose the jobs
they do?

In the news
this week...

The number of people seeking to start a career in the healthcare sector has risen during the pandemic, official figures reveal. Health leaders said the wish shown by thousands of people to help them to fight illness was “truly humbling”.

Do you know what your dream job would be?

I am an Ice Cream Taster.
Some of my job involves tasting and evaluating the flavour, texture and colour of ice cream. I had to have a food science degree to do this job.

I absolutely love my job as an electrician! It took me a while to find something I love so much as I had no idea what I wanted to be when I grew up. I was always taught 'live to work not work to live' and I saw how happy my parents were in their jobs so refused to give up until I found the job of my dreams! I think it is so important to enjoy your job as it makes you feel positive and happy.

My job makes me miserable. I worry about going into work, which keeps me awake at night, so I always feel tired and drained. I worked hard to get the qualifications I needed to get the job so don't want to give up.

On the whole, my job is great. I own my business, which can be quite stressful and means I sometimes find it impossible to stop working and switch off but I have some great customers, great staff and I am so proud that I created it myself.

My job is okay. It is weekday hours, 9am – 5pm. I get a good amount of holiday and it pays well so is perfect for me as I love spending time with my friends and family at the weekend and I enjoy the holiday time. I am glad I do not love my job like some people I know as all they seem to do is work and I think they are missing out on enjoying life!

Reflection

There are lots of different jobs for us to consider as we get older – and many different reasons for choosing them! We may want to work alongside our family members or friends, because there are certain things we are good at or simply because we love the job we do!

British Values

Individual Liberty

There are many different jobs that we might decide to do! Some people choose a job because of their interests, others because they want to live in a certain place or because they want to work alongside family or friends.
